

RAISING READERS CHANGING LIVES

A Conference Supporting Early Reading Development from Early Years to KS2

This important conference will demonstrate the effective approaches for teaching children at the early stages of reading. CLPE's Reading Scale shows how every child has different starting points and their rate and pattern of progression will depend on many factors. The day will focus on the ways in which schools can teach children to read, support early stage readers whatever their age and enable children to develop from early reading to independence.

RAISING READERS CHANGING LIVES

A Conference Supporting Early Reading Development
from Early Years to KS2

Strengthen subject knowledge and effective pedagogy to support early readers, whatever their age.

The Raising Readers conference will:

- Address the importance of ensuring early readers can decode to enable them to access print
- Show how we can deepen early readers' responses to texts and help them to read for meaning
- Recognise the factors that prevent progress and how to overcome barriers
- Understand what progression looks like in reading and how to use the Reading Scale to support teaching and assessment.

Newham Bookshop will have a pop-up bookshop at the conference.
